

- L&D.7.1.8 Infant resuscitation equipment and supplies.
- L&D.7.1.9 Emergency obstetric medications (e.g., oxytocics).

L&D.8

Newborns receive the proper care by qualified nurses.

- L&D.8.1 There is a qualified and competent nurse to receive the newborn during delivery.
- L&D.8.2 The attending nurse is qualified to perform the following for each newborn:
  - L&D.8.2.1 Suction.
  - L&D.8.2.2 Placing an identity band with the medical record number and other identifier(s) according to the hospital policy.
  - L&D.8.2.3 Finding and documenting the APGAR score.
  - L&D.8.2.4 Obtaining the footprint of the newborn and the thumbprint of the mother.

L&D.9

The medical records of the obstetrics department are properly completed.

- L&D.9.1 The following information must be available in patients' records before discharge from the delivery room:
  - L&D.9.1.1 Completed assessment and reassessment.
  - L&D.9.1.2 Completed partogram.
  - L&D.9.1.3 Secured cardio-tocography.
  - L&D.9.1.4 Initial neonatal assessment.
  - L&D.9.1.5 Delivery summary including method of delivery, date and time of delivery, name and designation of the healthcare professional who conducted the delivery and any assistants, type of anesthesia or sedation used during delivery, neonatal outcome, status of placenta and membranes, any postpartum instructions, and postpartum observations and discharge criteria.